

Balancing the Worlds

A Selenite & Sound Journey

A Soul Spirit Studio
Thursday, September 22nd
7:00 – 8:30pm ~ $38.00

Allow yourself to connect deeply with Mother Earth to release all that no longer serves and expand into your higher dimensions with Selenite Crystals & the Sounds of crystal singing bowls & pyramids accompanied by a soft grounding drumbeat.

This event can affect all levels of our being: spiritual, mental, emotional and physical. Allowing yourself to be more deeply in this world while knowing you are not of it will affect your everyday experiences. Anchoring in our higher power is key.

Selenite Crystals are powerful tools for clearing, balancing and opening energy. Known as the “Awakening Stone,” they bring forth transformation of our lives and being.

You will have Selenite rods to align with your torso and chakras, as well as two selenite wands to hold in each hand and some for your third eye. Nicki will give you a brief description of what the crystals do and how to best use them and then will lead the group into a guided meditation with her crystal singing pyramids and bowls as Jeff holds space with a deepening drumbeat. You will leave the event feeling uplifted, refreshed and blissful.

Both Nicki & Jeff began working with Spirit in 2000. Nicki’s path was with Angels and Jeff’s with Shamanism. For the past five years Nicki has devoted her work to Selenite and Sound, traveling across the country offering guided meditation events. This winter Jeff added his drum to her bowls and they loved the effect. Jeff’s offering of spirit and drumming deepens the Selenite and Sound meditation experience. Together they create a deeply sacred and comfortable space for you; balancing masculine and feminine energies as well as earthly and heavenly frequencies.
